VIRTUAL

Session of the German Data Forum (RatSWD)

“Micro data for gender related research in economics”

The RatSWD-session presents selected datasets that are available at the research data centres (RDCs) accredited by the German Data Forum (RatSWD). RDCs provide researchers with a multitude of data to describe and analyse the social and economic implications of gender along several dimensions. The presentations cover a broad range of data (e.g., gender specific modifications of existing datasets) and give examples for empirical analyses.
